Outreach Committee Charter

Operational Committee Charter | NSF-GV-02

PROPOSED FOR BOARD APPROVAL • Effective Date: _____

Drafting status. A subordinate proposed policy only. It does not replace the filed Certificate of Formation, presently effective bylaws, existing legal rights, or actual Board approvals. References to the October 2026 proposed bylaws describe a contemplated framework, not an adopted rule.

1. Establishment and status

Subject to valid Board authorization, NSF establishes an Outreach Committee as an operational and advisory committee contemplated by Texas Business Organizations Code §22.219. It is not a §22.218 management committee and may not exercise corporate-management authority reserved to the Board. An adopted charter does not itself replace a corporate officer position or determine any prior appointment; that transition must be separately approved if required.

2. Composition and appointments

Proposed NSF structure: at least two adult Committee members appointed by a properly recorded Board action. The Board designates a Committee Chair and a director as liaison; one person may fill both roles if separately appointed and authorized. Appointed members may be directors or other qualified volunteers, but service on this Committee creates no Board seat, officer position or family vote. Student volunteers may participate under appropriate adult supervision but do not count toward the adult minimum.

Appointments shall identify the term, contact, work assignments, access permissions, and review date. The Board may fill a vacancy or adjust appointments under the actual governing procedure, subject to contract and other applicable rights.

3. Purpose and core work

- Prepare and quality-check outward-facing materials: program descriptions, applications, slides, flyers, website/social updates, approved grant and sponsor materials, and event messages.
- Maintain an outreach opportunity pipeline and relationships with libraries, ISDs, PTAs, schools, cities, recreation programs, 4-H, youth organizations and prospective sponsors.
- Coordinate approved events: host communications, calendars, staffing, venues, accessibility, supplies, student demonstrations, logistics, follow-up and cancellation contingencies.
- Recommend program objectives and budgets for Robotics Discovery, mentorship, scrimmages, and other public programming; work with the Treasurer on authorized sponsorship and financial records.
- Record outreach outcomes: programs delivered, students reached (clearly define whether unique persons or attendance), cities served, repeat partners, and adult/student volunteer mentor hours without double counting.

4. Illustrative two-adult division of work

Assignment	Lead responsibility	Review and escalation
Documents & Communications Lead	Collect drafts, verify facts/links/permissions, run publication checklist, maintain approved versions and correspondence.	Coach checks student-created educational content; authorized publisher/Board determines approval level.
Activities & Partner Coordination Lead	Host intake, event schedule, adult volunteers, equipment/venue review, follow-up, and impact submission.	Program lead confirms staffing, safety and feasibility; Treasurer checks any finance obligations.

These are functional work assignments, not new corporate offices. Additional committee members can be assigned program-specific portfolios when approved.

5. Authority boundary

Within a Board-approved work plan, authorized members may conduct routine scheduling, information gathering, correspondence, preparation and distribution of already-approved materials. Committee votes or recommendations do not constitute Board decisions.

A Committee member may not independently execute contracts, commit NSF funds, approve restricted gifts, promise donor benefits or grants, issue refund offers, change student enrollment or corporate status, create organizational affiliation, or use NSF tax information for an outside team. Contracts, spending, grants and material commitments require the distinct approval processes already in effect.

6. Coach, student, safety, and media coordination

The responsible coach supervises student learning, work, presentation preparation and applicable competition integrity. The Committee manages the host-facing organizational process and must coordinate student obligations, deadlines, quality review and supervision with the coach. Adult disagreements go to the President or Board if unresolved; students should not receive contradictory directions.

Committee service does not authorize unsupervised work with minors. Each event follows approved youth-safety, volunteer eligibility, media-permission, transportation and event-host procedures.

7. Approval checkpoints and reporting

The Committee proposes an annual or quarterly plan and budget. The Board approves strategic commitments and other reserved items. Provide a short written progress update at each regular Board meeting, identifying event pipeline, delivered activities, budget-to-actual, unresolved host commitments, risks, and impact measures. Material risks, complaints, conflicting instructions or overruns are escalated promptly.

8. Records, access, and handover

Foundation outreach business records—sent/received messages, attachments, applications, approved material, contact history, permissions, program impact, and commitments—must be preserved in designated organizational repositories. At least two authorized adults should have continuity access to essential records. Departing Committee members shall promptly transfer relevant material and pending work while protecting unrelated personal information.

9. Working procedure

The Committee shall give each appointed member reasonable meeting notice. An internal recommendation may be decided under the Committee procedure properly adopted by the Board, and disagreements can be escalated. For a proposed two-person Committee, no one person may treat an unresolved disagreement as an authorized Committee decision. Routine tasks within existing assignments do not require Committee votes.

The Board shall approve a detailed event-operations SOP and may update task templates without changing this charter, subject to applicable governing rules. The Committee shall not invent a unilateral voting, removal or written-consent power.

10. Transition and nonretroactivity

On adoption, the Board's resolution should identify effective date, initial appointees and liaison, reporting route, authorized work, records transfer, and any lawful treatment of the existing Public Relations & Fundraising Director office. The Charter does not retroactively resolve prior officer, team, committee, or communication-access disputes.
